Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the recovery of J. E. LADY INSPECTORS.

Their Ardness Work of Bete ing Smuggiers Aboard Ship.

Meeting a lady employed in the custom house, I asked her to give me an idea of her pay and duties, to which she consented. She said: "It is generally supposed that the pay of a lady in the custom house is so large as to enable her to retire wealthy in the course of a few years, but the truth is, we receive about seventeen dollars a week, upon which we must maintain ourselves and families. Husbands? Oh, no; there are no husbands allowed us. No married woman can obtain a situation in the custom house, and a single woman would be dismissed if she were to marry while in the service of the Government. We are obliged to pay our own car fare, although when we are required very late at night or in very bad weather a carriage is frequently sent for us. We are often on duty far away from home at meal-times and on such occasions are compelled to patronize the restaurants, which makes quite an item in our expenses.

the restaurants, which makes quite an item in our expenses.

"We are given a percentage upon any contraband goods seized by us. What makes these Government positions so much in demand is the absolute certainty of the pay and the almost equal certainty that the employment, once obtained, will be permanent. There are eight only of us lady inspectors in New York, and among us we divide the work of inspecting every vessel arriving on this coast, so you may believe none of us are idle.

"It would be dangerous for a woman to go alone at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning to some of the docks woman to go alone at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning to some of the docks we have to go to, therefore a man is always sent to take us to the vessel and accompany us home again if we do not go back before daylight. The most irksome part of the duty of a lady inspector is that she has never an hour that she may call her own. She never dare make an apown. She never dare make an appointment to go out for over an hour or go to a matinee, or even to church, for fear that a dispatch may church, for fear that a dispatch may arrive in her absence telling her to be at such and such a dock to inspect a (named) vessel. In 35 minutes after receiving the telegram she must be at the place indicated, "We are rowed out to the vessels, and as in winter the weather is cold and often stormy, the exposure is trying to the health, and a disagreeable task even to the most robust. Nevertheless, once a lady gets into a berth at the custom house robust. Nevertheless, once a lady gets into a berth at the custom house—a most difficult thing to accomplish—she stays. There are no resignations and very rarely a death, so that it may be said that there are never any vacancies.

"A woman must be a born detective to be a good inspector. She should know almost the first time she lays eyes upon a lady whether or not she has any smuggled goods in her possession. Then, when it comes to searching a woman, it requires great deal of tact and delicacy to carry your point and yet give no just cause for complaint. And firmness! dear me! Some of them beg so hard not to be entirely denuded that it would melt a heart of stone.

"What are usually secreted in a lady's dress? Oh, diamonds and other precious stones. They conceal these everywhere—in the hair and in the paddings of the dress, in the seams of the clothing and in the shoes. They have large shoes made as if for large bunions, which they fill with precious stones. The Italians are natural born smugglers, and smuggle coral chiefly. First and second-cabin passengers smuggle by proxy, now more generally than in "Steerage passengers are not required to declare their goods, so that many people who want to smuggle light but valuable goods, like lace and diamonds, pay the passage over of a steerage passenger, on condition of his or her getting through certain contraband articles. It is rather risky, because the trusted person may walk off with the goods, and the owner cannot recover them, or if he does, it is only to have them nabbed by the custom house officers, but there is less risk of detection in the steerage than in the cabin.

'I remember an amusing incident; A gentleman returning from Europe brought back half a dozen gold watches as presents to his family, iflow to escape paying duty on them tormented his mind until he was pearing his native land. Having be-

How to escape paying duty on them tormented his mind until he was nearing his native land. Having become well acquainted during the voyage with six gentlemen who had no watches, he asked each one to wear a watch until he got ashere. They all consented. Four of them brought the watches ashore unchallenged by the officers, and returned them, but the other two vamoosed with the watches, leaving the gentleman to make the best of his loss.

"Had he made any row or arrested the thieves he would have betrayed that he himself was trying to defraud the Government.

"Among the other accomplishments of a lady inspector must be a knowledge of languages, unless she wishes to be put to great inconvenience and considerable expense in feeing interpreters. Immigrants arrive here from every place under the sun, A lady searcher has got to converse with them all. Among the steerage passengers a knowledge of the various putos of a language is as necessary as of the pure tongue itself."—[New York World.

A PRACTICAL x ay to reduce pauperism in America and lessen the number of dependents upon charity has long been a subject of study to political economists. It is a selfevident truth that the nation posessed of the smallest number of citizens depending for their existence upon the commonwealth stands fartherest upon the rough road of progress. We see by an exchange just received that statistics have been gathered in New York and other Eastern cities for presentation before a national con- Government are much more important ference of organized charities. Believing that the judiscriminate distribution of alms is hurtful rather than beneficial to the greater portion of the unfortunate deserving of aid, the scheme has been developed of systematic inquiry into the condition of the poor with the primal object in view for finding work for all idle hands to do. Standing on the position that in countless cases reformation can be made both in households and in the character of the applicants, these societies linked in one organization have wrought a good work and from sound premises have arrived at a logical solution of the problem of poverty. The slight percentage of humanity which has shown itself as unworthy of confidence is the most striking evidence. distribution of alms is hurtful dence is the most striking evidence that the every opportunity should be afforded for a broadening of the system from which so many good results have come. Such common seuse beneficence should be carefully studied and tested even in our western towns, where, fortunately, the applications for charity are not, as a rule, numerous. Pauperism is an evil that, if encouraged by indolence, will surely , row.

IT is one of the principal aims of the GAZETTE to treat all men fairly. Whenever anything is done to promote the interests of Nevada, and especially of Reno, mention will gladly be made of it in these columns and due credit given the despecial state of the Express Company, and that he had practically completed negotiations which would give him control of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company, and was practically in possession of the Baltimore and Ohio property, including railroad, telegraph and express business. umns and due credit given the deserving ones. Certainly the new local passenger schedule of the Central Pacific Company, that goes mendation and will be greeted with delight by the people of Nevada. It will give those of limited means a chance to travel, and this increased patronage will, unquestionally, more than compensate for the reductions. The new schedule is carefully constructed and liberal. The reductions will probably average 25 per cent. Japan's foreign trade last year was greater than ever before, and that with the United States and Canada was greater than with any other country. But the balance was all against us; for while we export to that country about $3,000,-000 worth of goods, we import from there no less than $16,000,000. Great Britain's trade with Japan was just the reverse of this. We bought their tea, rice and silk and paid cash and the cash drifted finally into English products to pay for cotton and woolen goods. And yet Japan is on our side and not the British side of the globe and her commerce naturally belongs to us, and not in the one-sided way it is carried on now, either.

Has anything been done yet by the property owners of Reno towards getting a good fire department? If not, no one but them-selves will be to blame if a conflagration, unchecked, should destroy a portion of the town.

Columbia River Sal mon Catch.

NEW YORK, September 1. Senator Henry W. Corbett, of Ore-gon, now at the Gilsey House, says the salmon catch in the Columbia river salmon catch in the Columbia river this season will probably reach 100,000 cases, or 4,800,000 pounds. That is fully 20 per cent. below the usual amount, and he credits this falling off to the destruction of young fish by the use of the trap, which catches all sizes. Trappers do not care, and Corbett thinks the United States Government might as well take the remedy in hand, especially as the Columbia river is the dividing line between Oregon and Washington Territory.

"He'll Get There all the Same." New York, September 1. Henry Villard is again becoming power in Wall street. Yesterday it is said, he completed the purchase of six million dollars' worth of secutities owned by the Oregon Transcontinental Company for a German syndicate which he represents. It is understood that this sale carries with it the agreement that Villard shall have a seat in the Oregon Transcontinental Directory and many people predict that he will soon again be President of the companies from which he resigned in 1884.

NEW YORK, August 31. A statement is made by Henry Vilard that an agreement has been enlard that an agreement has been en-tered into between the Oregon Trans-continental Company and a foreign syndicate, headed by the Deutsche Bank, of Berlin, in pursuance of which the almost entire floating debt of the Oregon Transcontinental Company will be paid off immediately, and $6,-000,000 are already provided for this nurnose.

Beduced Cable States.

NEW YORK, September 1.

The Commercial Cable Co. this morning issued a circular giving a reduction of cable rates on and after September 15, 1887. The tariff will be 12 cents per word to Great Britain, Ireland and France, and 15 cents per word to Germany. At a meeting of the Directors of the Commercial Cable Company it was resolved to increase the capital stock from four to six millilion dollars. G. G. Ward, Secretary and General Manager of the company, said the additional two million dollars became necessary on account of recent expenses. The company has made great improvements lately, and have added extensively to their plant, and a great deal of expense was incurred in laying the new cable from Waterville, Ireland, to Bristol.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

The Brakemen's Strike at Ogden. SALT LAKE, August 31. The alleged strike of the Central Pacific brakemen at Ogden is exaggerated. On Monday the pay car gerated. On Monday the pay car made payments on the new scale, adopted August 1, which showed an increase of $7 to $21 to the man, according to the extra work done. Still the brakeman are not satisfied and held one train. Superintendent Tell offered to count 110 miles a day's run, and two and one-half cents per mile for all over that, and gave the brakemen until 6 last night to report for duty. Officers were called in and the trains moved without molestation, with plenty of hands. Some of the brakemen quit, but there were plenty to take their places.

PEAVINE DISTRICT.

Visit to the Gray Ragic Mine Yesterday - Very Promising

Yesterday - Very Promising Properties. In company with Col. W. F. Mills, of San Francisco, C. M. Twiss, of Cortez, Eureka county, and J. O. Twiss, of Reno, a GAZETTE reporter yesterday afternoon visited the Gray Eagle mine, in Granite Hill. Peavine District, some ten or eleven miles north of town. The property was known for several years as the Dickey mine, but upon the death of Amos Dickey, the principal owner, the controlling interest passed into the hands of San Francisco and Eastern capitalists, who are greatly encouraged by the developments being made.

In the property are four tunnels and one incline. The length of the lengest tunnel is 345 feet, and the header of the one in which two shifts of men, with Mr. C. Dickey as Superintendent, are employed, is in a distance of about 200 feet. It ls in a distance of about 200 feet. It penetrates the mountain about 250 feet above the valley, and it is believed that when the header is advanced a further distance of 160 feet the ledge will be reached, and a body of rich ore uncovered. In running this and the other tunnels, several deposits of ore of good grade have been cut through, and over 100 tons of it are on the dumps awaiting shipment. In value it awaiting shipment. In value it ranges from $25 to over $400 a tou. ranges from $25 to over $400 a tou. It carries a high percentag; of copper, and for that reason cannot be smelted at the reduction works here. Unless facilities are soon provided by our home company for working this class of ore, Superintendent Dickey said that he would make a shipment to Denver. He shipped a car-load to Dayton several years ago, that yielded 46 per cent. copper, and the leachings worked $64 a ton in gold and silver. Some 15 years ago a deposit worked $64 a ton in gold and silver. Some 15 years ago a deposit of rich black oxide of copper was discovered in an adjoining claim, close to the surface. A smelter was improvised, but it proved unsuccessful, and the slag was shipped to Swansea, Wales, where it yielded greater returns than were anticipated. The character of the formation of the Gray Eagle mine is principally porphyretic quartzife, with cloud of the Gray Eagle mine is principally porphyretic quartzite, with syenite footwall, the ledge, so far as known, being strong and fully eight feet in width. The selvidge of the veins and deposits already discovered are, as a rule, rich in gold. Mixed with the ore on the dumps is much white opertz more or less than the construction of the construction. is much white quartz, more or less stained with copper, and carrying free gold. Several pieces of it were crushed to a powder and washed yesterday, and considerable coarse gold was found in the pan. His time being limited, the reporter was unable to visit other properties in the district.

Eighteen carloads of tea went is appreciable has occurred in the Antelope, which means that it is maintaining its profitable standard. The Durand is still improving and the management is very much encouraged. Seldom has richer rock been shipped than was the lot recently sent to San Francisco. The development in the Juniata is not large yet, but the rock is rich and the old timers expect to see a large body of very rich ore uncovered. Their expectations are not simply the result of miners' hopefulness, but are based on known facts. Some years ago, when there was work done in this mine, the tunnel ran into soft ground which caved badly. The loose dirt composing the cave contained large boulders of quartz sometimes several feet in diameter which wave could care. the management is very much enof quartz sometimes several feet in diameter, which were so full of gold as to be worth $500 or $600 a ton. These boulders came from a ledge somewhere and it would not be surprising to hear of its discovery at any time.

TUSCARORA MINING DISTRICT

A reporter of the GAZETTE met General Robert Clarke on his way to San Francisco the other morning, and in conversation with him with reference to the future prospects of the Tuscarora Mining District. elicited the following:

Reporter-General, what are the prospects in Tuscarora?

"The Found Treasure Company," he said, "is pushing development work with great dispatch. A complete steam hoist has been purchased and a double compartment shaft is being sunk for working purposes. The present shaft and whim," continued the General, "are insufficient to develop and work the mine. In the gangway running parallel with the ledge, which is 75 feet northwest of the shaft, a ledge has been cut that is bristling with ruby silver. Blocks of this ore weighing 70 pounds have been assayed that reach $1,000 in silver and $40 30 in gold per ton.
Men are working the ore new."
Rep.—What about the Nevada
Queen?
General—That is another propo-

General—That is another proposition. Developments there are of great importance; but are you going to publish this conversation?

Rep.—Yes, sir.

General—Then I will not speak further than to tell you plain facts, as you newspaper fellows are sometimes given to exaggeration. The winze at the 200-foot level. 49 feet north of the south end level of the claim, is being pushed rapidly in order to connect with the 350-foot level. This winze from top to botlevel. This winze from top to bottom is in ore that mills $400 a ton, and as the winze gets deeper the vein seems to grow richer and the ore more valuable. A crosscut (in No. 2) is being run for the ledge 100 feet north of the winze, through which we expect to cut the ledge to the ledge. in about ten days. This particular crosscut is run from the 350-foot level (the middle ledge) and will reach it before the middle of Sep-tember. This middle ledge has already been cut in three places in a drift at the 200-foot level, which is south of the shaft, and in a crosscut from the north-west gangway on the 200-foot level, 100 feet north of the main shaft, and 260 feet below the surface. and 260 feet below the surface. This middle ledge shows good ore and in paying quantities wherever it is cut, and when it was cut at 260 feet below the surface, as I said before, four feet of good milling ore was found. I might add that a crosscut is being sunk to the west ledge which will surely reach the main ledge before the first of October—a connection which promises very important results.

The west ledge in the main shaft is already cut 54 feet below the surface, and it is eight feet wide, four feet of which contains ore milling over $700 per ton. Starting from this 54-foot connection there is a winze down on the west ledge 56 feet. We struck very high grade ore at this point. Should the crosscut now being driven to this ledge find the ore as good as in the winze proper, the value of the mine will be vastly increased.

Reporter—What will you do General—The Nevada Queen Company will immediately com-mence stoping and hoisting ore, and the Grandi Prize mill will be working on this ore in September.
Reporter—What guarantee have shareholders that your prospects are so bright?

sir, that there will be no ass ore in the ore house now to keep the company out of debt. Yes, sir; Tuscarors is going to be another rich ore-producing section, and thereby add largely to the future wealth of Nevada.

The train steamed out and the GAZETTE reporter walked away, wishing he bad some interest in wishing he bad sovered property.

The day of the trial arrived, and in open court an eminent oculist retained by the defense examined the alleged injured member, and gave it as his opinion it was as good as the right eye. Upon the plaintiff's loud protest of his inability to see with his left eye, the oculist proved him a perjurer, and satisfied the court and jury of the falsity of his claim. And how do you suppose he did it? Why, simply by knowing that the colors green and red combined make black. He procured a black card on which a few words were written with green ink. Then the plaintiff was ordered to put on a pair of spectacles with two different glasses, the one for the right eye being red, and the one for the left consisting of ordinary glass. Then the card was handed him, and he was ordered to read the writing on it. This he did without hesitation, and the cheat was at once exposed.
